EPOXY FLOOR COATING & PAINTING

The reasons for floor grinding to be done, apart from making the floor perfectly flat, is the maintenance after the installation is so easy and any stains or scratches that appear are easily removed without any trace. Using the latest patented technology from Italy, the polishing of the stone floor will be obtained in a natural and mechanical way. The technology we use eliminates the use of lead crystallizers, which are harmful to health and the environment. The machines and diamond discs we use increase the speed of polishing up to 8 times faster than other machines on the market, improving the final result and gloss of the floor. Our floor grinding machines are all water fed which means the process is completely dust free. A highly polished, mirror like effect is only one of the finishes that we offer, with our specialist knowledge and machinery.

- o Preparing and applying an epoxy floor coating is not something that should be left to your in-house maintenance team.

INTERLOCK

Tiles & Marbles Fixing Service

The best floor coverings for use with under floor heating are hard surfaces such as stone and ceramic tile as they have the least resistance and transfer heat effectively. As the most thermally conductive of all floor coverings, energy from the heating pipe array can transfer quickly to the surface of the stone/tile. Increasing the thickness will have little effect on power output, but will slightly increase heat-up times. It is always advisable to use a decoupling membrane and flexible adhesive with solid floor finishes reducing the potential for hairline expansion cracks; large areas will also benefit from expansion joints, especially through doorways. The flooring supplier will be able to offer advice on specific coverings.
